Product Database

Enter your products below (no duplicates) with their price. The description is optional. Any products added here will be available to be selected as a product on the Voucher Database. You can sort them using the arrows in the headers, as the order here will determine the order in the dropdown list on the Voucher Database tab.

Product	Description	Price	Vouchers No. Issued	Vouchers Value
Product 1		£30.00	1	£30.00
Product 2		£10.00	1	£10.00
Service 1		£20.00	0	£0.00
Service 2		£15.00	1	£15.00

You are able to add products and or services to a database, along with their prices. This then serves as drop down list options on the voucher database, so that you can select any product or service to appear on the voucher.

With this option you can provide a voucher for a product or service, rather than just for a monetary value. Would you rather just issue an invoice for a monetary value? No problem, you can do that too.

Voucher Database

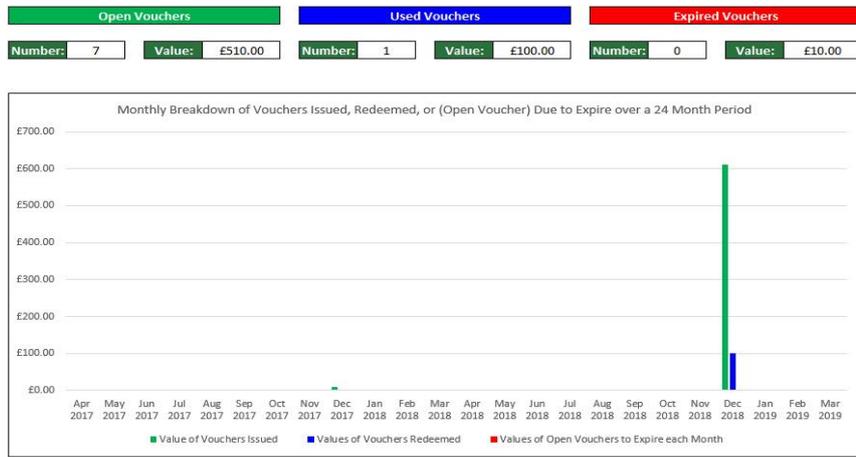

Enter the information below, each line being for a new voucher. You will have drop down list option in many of the columns depending on your selections on the Intro & Setup tab, and your product database. Please enter only ONE option below (for Option A and Option B). Option A is a voucher for a product or service (select the value of the product too if you select this option). Option B is a voucher for a value only (select the value only). In some cases you can over-write a drop down list value, others you have to select an option.

Next is the voucher invoice. Simple to use, and it generates some cracking reports, and a voucher template. Simply select the next voucher number, the issue date and the expiry date (you can pre-set the period of validity). You can then either assign a product or service, or just a monetary value. If you'd like to, you can also show who purchased the voucher, who it is for, and a contact number. Then all that is left to do is put in the date when the voucher is redeemed.

Do this for each voucher, and the spreadsheet does the rest!

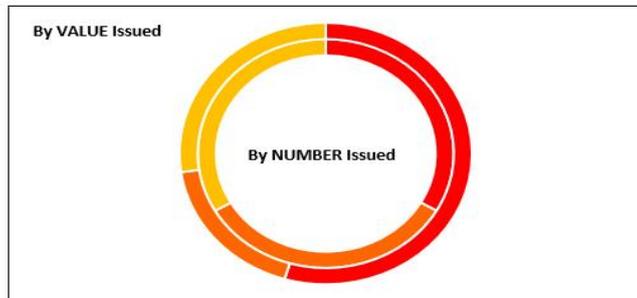

At any stage, you can see an up to date report of the value of all vouchers depending on when they were issued and redeemed, over a 24 month period. Not only that, but you can also see the values of when vouchers are due to expire. This 24 period shows the current month, 3 months into the future, and 20 months in the past.

This will show you which months have been good for voucher sales or voucher redeeming. Also, you can see if there are any vouchers coming up for expiry, as you may have those redeemed soon.

That is not the only report, you can also see a breakdown of the top 10 selling product or service vouchers. You can see how they compare between numbers sold and the value of the sales. Some vouchers may sell frequently, but at lower values, this helps you to see exactly what is going on. You can also see the 10 standard values of vouchers which you can choose. You can see how many have been issued, and the total value of the vouchers. All useful data when you're looking at trends and what people prefer.

The report also goes as far as to show you a breakdown of the types of vouchers issued, and their current status.

Do you clients prefer to get vouchers for specific products or service, or just a monetary value? What percentage of your vouchers are still outstanding? How many vouchers have expired? What value of vouchers is still out there, ready to walk through the door? All these questions are answered.
